

APR 10 '25

©CLM 2960 C

PERMANENT WAVES.

Strange as it may seem this story has to do with hair and all of that.

In the beginning Belinda Dog is having her hair bobbed in Isador Ket's beauty parlor. Some darn fool mice, mstart shhoting a "bean shooter" around a bit and finally swat Belinda on the left ear, she up and tries to blame it on Isador, but he pleads innocent.

Byebye, a no good cat has been thrown out of house and home and given orders to "stay Put" goes prowling around and finally runs across a slightly used, but discarded bottle of "Hair Restorer" and decides to try its powers. Its first results are on the door knob.

This cat enters his old home and awaits some of the mice, finally he pours some on a mouse, and he suddenly turns to a hairy wig, this sudden result puts the other mice to fright and flight.

So the fat headed old farmer to prove himself half a man he is, shakes hands and makes up with the ingenious cat.

Aesop says: "People that live in glass houses should never take a bath."

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress